OUR JOURNEY OUR IMPACT

From Vision to Sustainable Change

PREFACE

Gramin Kishan Vikas Society (GKVS) was Founded in 2006 with a simple yet powerful vision – to empower rural and tribal communities and build a self-reliant India.

Over the years, we have worked closely with communities, government agencies and development partners to implement meaningful programs that create long-term impact in the areas of agriculture, environment, livelihoods, skill development, women empowerment, animal husbandry and disaster management.

Our journey is driven by trust, teamwork and a deep commitment to rural transformation.

OUR JOURNEY TIMELINE

2006

Gramin Kisan Vikas Society (GKVS) was established in Bhlangna Block, Tingad village, Tehri Garhwal District. Initially, GKVS worked with women farmers to protect crops from wild animals by installing fencing around agricultural fields.

2007 – 2010

GKVS initiated work with women Self-Help Groups (SHGs) in Tehri district. During this period, 1,008 SHGs were formed and strengthened under the guidance of GKVS.

2011 – 2015

In the remote areas of Bhlangna Block, Tehri Garhwal, GKVS established two Farmer Producer Organizations (FPOs). Through these FPOs, around 2,000 farmers were connected and engaged in the production and marketing of vegetables, agricultural products, and microfinance activities.

2016 – 2020

GKVS expanded its activities across Uttarakhand. During this period, it established its head office in Dehradun and began implementing the Jal Jeevan Mission and various other development projects.

2021 – 2025

After successfully implementing projects across Uttarakhand, GKVS expanded its operations throughout India. The organization increased its presence and project implementation capacity by creating teams and operational centers in 10-15 sectors/regions.

2025

GKVS is currently working not only in Uttarakhand but also in various states of India in different sectors such as agriculture, water conservation, environmental management, skill development, and rural development, through its specialized departments and programs.
